DEVOTED MOTHER

Taken Suddenly From Her Home And Family. Mrs. Witt Dies of Acute Indigestion. Large Number of Friends Attend Funeral Here.

Mrs. Richard D. Witt died suddenly at the home of her husband in Louisville Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock. She was seized with an attack of acute indigestion about 9 o'clock. Mrs. Witt was apparently in excellent health and her death was a great shock. She had made all preparations to go to church Sunday morning and had her plans made for the Sabbath day.

Mrs. Witt was sixty-three years of age and was born in Wayne county. She was married to Mr. Witt thirty-four years ago. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Sam Caple, and three sons, Wade and Robert Witt, of Louisville, James Witt, of Irvington; three step-daughters, Mrs. J. C. Nolte and Mrs. W. B. Allen, of Cloverport, and Mrs. A. M. Tate, of Louisville; one brother, Robert E. Woods, and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Sullivan.

The body was brought from Louisville Monday morning and the funeral was held from the Methodist church after the train arrived. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. S. G. Shelley, who was pastor of the Methodist church here when Mrs. Witt lived in Cloverport sixteen years ago. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Wm. Smart, Ed. Oglesby, Amiel Oelze, J. A. Barry, D.H. Severs and Sam Courard.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were: Mr. Witt and his sons, Wade, Rob. and Jas. Witt; Messrs. Carl Richardson and H. R. Johnson, Mrs. Annie Hanks and Miss Annie Hewitt, of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Woods and Mrs. Jennie Sullivan, of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allen, Miss Jennie Allen, Sidney Taul, M. S. James Witt, of Irvington, and Mrs. A. M. Tate, of Louisville.

LEWISPORT MILL'S NEW MACHINERY MAKING FINE FLOUR

After having been closed down for several weeks having their plant in the hands of a mill contracting firm, The Lewisport Flour Mill has again resumed grinding. The improvements made were in the way of installing the very latest and best milling machinery in view of increasing the capacity of the mill, and the proprietors have kept carefully in view an effort to improve upon the already excellent quality of flour for which this mill is so well and favorably known. So far the results have been eminently satisfactory to the proprietors, in that the quality of their flour cannot be surpassed, they claim it to be in a class by itself, and the capacity of the mill is even more than the contracting firm promised. In fact the mill is among the best equipped plants in the country now, and if you want something fine in the way of bread, try a sack of Lewisport Flour.

Gilmore-Irwin.

The marriage of Mrs. Emily Ward Gilmore and Mr. Lucien J. Irwin was quietly solemnized at noon today at the home of the bride, in Belgrave, the Rev. James Gibson Munger, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, officiating.

The couple left immediately afterward for the East, and upon their return will make their home in Belgrave Court. Mr. and Mrs. John Deer Cady, of McLeone, Ill., are here for the wedding, and only the immediate members of the family were present.—Outsville Post, December 6.

Leaves Farm For Town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tucker and three sons have arrived here from Harned to make their home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Armstrong. Mr. Tucker is a carpenter and will follow the trade in this city. He has been farming during the last three years near Harned and is an energetic young man. He will make a good citizen for Cloverport.

License to Motion

Picture Show.

The City council met in regular session last Monday night, Mayor Barry presiding. There was some complaint about the poor light furnished the city by the Gas Company during the last month and the bill was cut to half the regular allowance. Mr. James Burke asked the council to fix a license by the year for a moving picture show, but they were not inclined to do so at present. They made a reduction, however, on the license as it stands and asked Mr. Burke to pay the license for each performance.

Sadness In The Elder

Home—Death And Illness.

Miss Genevieve Elder, the pretty young daughter of Mr. T. N. Elder, is dead. Her death was caused from tuberculosis. His other lovely young daughter, Miss Myrtle Elder, is ill of the same trouble. Mr. Elder's father, J. W. Elder, age eighty-three, is very low.

Finds Honey While Hunting

Gid Seaton and Mont Smith, of Glen Dean, while hunting rabbits, found a bee tree and got thirty pounds of honey which is unusual for this time of year.

Fine New Sons

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilson have named their little son, who arrived December 3, has been named Bob Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Will Ross are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a fine boy December 5.

Police Docket.

Last Monday was the regular civil term of the city Police court. There were several cases on the docket, the most of which were settled without any special contest. The mule case between J. W. White and James DeJarnette, was transferred to Hardinsburg. Claude Mercer, Gus Brown and Jesse R. Eskridge, attorneys, from Hardinsburg were here interested in the proceedings.

Charley Hall Dead

Charlie Hall, of Madrid, a prominent citizen, died Saturday, December 2. He had been in bad health for several months. Mr. Hall is survived by one brother, Dr. Sidney Hall, of Constantine.

SWEET SERVICES

Held As Last Tribute To Miss Anna Murphy—Funeral And Interment Friday Afternoon At Her Old Home.

The funeral of Miss Anna Murphy was held from the Methodist church, Friday afternoon in this city. The interment took place at the Cloverport cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Frank Lewis officiated in the services and the music was rendered by Misses Ida and Georgia White, Miss Margaret Burn, Mrs. Rowland, Misses Elizabeth and Eva May. "Will There Be A Star In My Crown?" was sweetly sung as a solo by Miss Eva May. "Asleep In Jesus" and "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder," special songs that Miss Murphy loved because they were the favorite ones of her mother, were also sung.

The grave was covered with beautiful pink and white roses, and white Chrysanthemums tied with lavender chiffon. The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. C. Nolte, Chas. May, William Smart, Frank Payne, Chas. Sawyer and Wickliffe Moorhead.

The body of Miss Murphy arrived from Chicago Thursday night, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Upton. Miss Murphy died Monday, December the fourth, at the Upton residence. She was taken ill of paralysis, on a street car, and lived only a short while after the stroke. Miss Murphy was the daughter of Allen Murphy and Elizabeth Murphy and she was born August 15, 1857. She had been making her home for nearly fifteen years with Mrs. Upton, who was Miss Pearl Brainerd before her marriage. They were devoted friends and had been since Mrs. Upton was in her early girlhood when she lived in Cloverport. Miss Murphy leaves two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Kingsbury, of this place, and Mrs. Thos. Watkins, of St. Joseph, Mo.

Splendid Christmas Values.

Dr. L. L. of the Hardinsburg Pharmacy, has an interesting page ad in this issue, and so has J. C. Nolte & Brother, of this city. In fact, every page of this week's News contains excellent advertisements of splendid offerings to the Christmas shoppers.

New Machinery At Shops

A new boiler washer is being placed in the L. H. & St. L. shops here at the cost of $650.00.

THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION IN IT'S CORPORATE

Capacity met December 1, 1911. The following members were present: F. M. Bates, Jas. O. Leslie, Jas. L. Ball, J. Whitworth, and passed the following order:

That no school-house be opened for any purpose whatsoever until a contract has been signed by, at least, two responsible men living in said subdistrict; for any and all damages that may happen to said school-house, furniture and fuel belonging to said school. Said contract to be filed with and approved by the Division Chairman of the division in which school-house is located, and that the local subdistrict trustees are hereby notified to see that no schoolhouse is used, contrary to this order. Parties violating this order will be reported to the Grand Jury at the next regular term of Circuit Court; this order to take effect from this date. And that no entertainment of any description shall be held where admission is charged, unless all money collected be used for school purposes.—County Board of Education.

Hurrah For "Capt. Billie"

Dear Mr. Babbaged: Enclose find one dollar ($1.00) for which please move my subscription forward one notch. I watch for the paper with a good deal of interest each week. I am glad to have so many evidences of prosperity in the old county. It is gratifying to know that the people have honored themselves by electing my old friend, "Captain Billy," to represent the county in the Legislature. He has lived in the county a good while and ought to know the things that are needed for its welfare. Since he has declared in favor of the County Unit Law I hope it will prevail.

It may be that we can visit the sacred soil again next summer.

I trust that you and your readers may receive the best Santa Claus has for his favorites, and find 1913 a happy New Year. Sincerely yours, S. C. Bates, West Liberty, Ohio. December 7, 1911.

OLD AND RESPECTFUL CITIZEN DIES NEAR KIRK

James Robert Mattingly, aged about 84 years, died at the old homestead, the residence of his son, J. R. Mattingly, Jr., near Kirk, Wednesday, December 6, after an invalidism of several years.

The remains were buried with Solemn High Mass at St. Anthony's Long Lick, on the 11th, at which Rev. Father Brey, of Cloverport, nephew of the deceased, officiated, assisted by Father Mornum and James Lewis, of Hardinsburg. The funeral was largely attended. His going removes one of the landmarks in the Kirk neighborhood, where for years beyond the allotted three score and ten, he lived respected and honored by a wide acquaintance.

Besides the son who resides at the parental home, three children survive the father's death: Mrs. John O'Reilly, of Hardinsburg; Mrs. Frank Rhodes, of McDaniels, and Mrs. Mary Rhodes, of Knottsville.

Attending The Inaugural.

Card Of Thanks.

We want to thank all friends for the kindness shown us Monday on a sad mission back to our old home.—R. D. Witt and family, 4027 S. Third St., Louisville.

"EVERYWOMAN"

Is At Shubert-Masonic Theater This Week—Matinees Today And Saturday—Modern Morality Play.

With Frederick Warde, Marie Wainwright and Jane Oaker at the head of its brilliant and numerous presenting cast and with all the wonderful stage investiture which helped to earn its title of the most remarkable stage spectacle seen in New York and Chicago in years, "Everywoman". Henry W. Savage's massive production of Walter Brown's modern morality play, is in Louisville to remain for one week at the Shubert-Masonic theatre.

"Everywoman" has been denominated a modern morality play. Its characters are named for the virtues, vices, characteristics and qualities of the human race which influence the direct life of today. Its theme is every woman's search for love. The play is divided into five canticles. One of the scenes is a representation of Broadway, New York, at midnight upon New Year's eve. During this scene alone nearly 200 persons appear upon the stage.

J. C. NOLTE & BRO., Cloverport, Ky.

New Model City

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 25.—A great transformation is taking place in the Wright's Fork, of Boone section, in this county, as well as on Elkhorn, where the Consolidation Coal Company has wrought wonders within the past few months in the way of building and development, a hitherto almost unbroken forest. On Wright's Fork a model town christened McRoberts, is going up by leaps and bounds. The Nicola Building Company, of Pittsburg started the building of McRoberts a few weeks ago, and already has made much headway. McRoberts already has telephones, electric lights, a store, warehouses, boarding-houses, barns, residences, sawmills, bandmills, planing mills, dry kilns, etc., with which to prepare the building material necessary for its rapid construction. The postoffice department has just sent a representative to the town who will advise the immediate establishment of a postoffice. The hundreds of men employed there anxiously await the establishment of a postoffice. The hundreds of men employed there anxiously await the establishment of mail facilities as they are now five miles from a postoffice.

Where McRoberts stands was once the property of John W. Wright. Only a few years ago he transferred it to the Great Northern Coal and Coke Company for $6.00 an acre in fee—almost a "song," as the saying goes. On it is a number of veins of the best coking coal in the United States, one seam measuring about 20 feet of straight, solid coal.

The Lexington & Eastern railroad, a branch of the L. & N., is now being rapidly constructed and will be completed into the new city on Wright's Fork within six months, it is said, while it is expected that the Big Sandy & Elkhorn will have been completed into Jenkins before that time. It is not expected that the roads will connect as there is a big mountain between the two places.

Other towns will be built by the Consolidation Coal Company, as it is the purpose of the gigantic corporation to develop the whole of their 100,000 acres as rapidly as possible.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

Notice.

All persons having claims against the Tar Springs Sanitarium Company, will file same with the undersigned, duly sworn to and proven according to law; same to be filed before the 10th day of January, 1912.

The undersigned Special Commissioner will hear proof on all claims so filed, on the 17th of January, A. D. 1912, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 6 o'clock, p. m. at the office of Murray & Murray, Hardinsburg, Ky. All claims have to be proven before the undersigned.

Very Respectfully,
H. C. Murray,
Special Commissioner of the Breckinridge Circuit Court.

By virtue of a judgement and order of sale of Breckinridge Circuit Court, rendered at October term thereof, 1911, in the above cause, for the sum of one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent until paid; subject to the following or bids: $5.00 paid August 12, 1901, and $12.39 paid October 26, 1906.

Herein I shall proceed to offer for sale at Fisher's corner in Cloverport, Kentucky, to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Saturday the 21 day of December, 1911, at one o'clock, p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months; the following described property, to-wit: One undivided one sixth interest in and to the Warfield tobacco warehouse and lot situated in the town of Cloverport near the upper wharf; also six lots lying in the Warfield addition to the town of Cloverport being lots nos. 142, 143, 145, 146, 147 and 149, as shown by the plat of said addition.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money so ordered to be made. For the debt, interest and costs, the purchaser, with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a replevin bond. Lien retained to secure payment of purchase money. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Approximate debt, interest and cost, $217.16.
Lee Walls, Commissioner.

SHOULD HAVE A NEW HOME FOR GOVERNOR McCREARY

There is one spot in Frankfort that Governor McCreary will find little changed since his occupancy of it nearly forty years ago, and that is the Governor's mansion. It is the same ancient landmark it was when he first occupied it, only more so. Time has served to bring other buildings of a more modern construction to be erected nearby and the contrast is to the detriment of the "mansion." With the new capitol there should likewise come a new home for the Governor, one in keeping with the demands of the times.—The Telegram.

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Thos. E. Williams, Middleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers.

A Christmas Warning to Buyers of Jewelry Gifts!

It is Necessary to Know What Jewelry Is!

One has to be educated in its make-up and quality of the gold and silver, to appreciate it. No one can intelligently know a good or inferior article without a jeweler's education. To sell jewelry is only the part of a salesman. To understand and know what a piece of jewelry is, means another thing.

Impossible it Is for a man behind the counter selling jewelry, who has never been a jeweler or silver and gold worker, to tell a customer what he is getting in jewelry. Be not deceived, and take the risk in losing your money in CHEAP, GLITTERING, ARTICLES. Beautiful Jewelry is appreciated more than anything at Christmas. Handsome silver is what everybody wants. Do not let any one persuade you to get anything but the best.

Go to a Man of Experience

YOUR HOME JEWELER. You know him. His goods you can risk. He takes pride in telling and showing his customers that they are getting value for their money. He delights in providing you with just what you want. He makes special orders. All his goods are HAND ENGRAVED. You can depend on your home jeweler to take an interest in you.

A Visit to The Store of T. C. Lewis

Will satisfy and you need not go elsewhere. Christmas Jewelry is a lifetime present and wins a place of love forever in the heart of the recipient. For anything in first-class jewelry you can get it at T. C. Lewis'. Come and see for yourself. Ever Your Jeweler,

FOR THE BOY ON THE FARM.

The second day of January 1912 the college of Agriculture of the State University will begin its farmers' courses or short courses in agriculture. This course continues until the middle of March, treating practical farm problems and operations in a scientific manner. It is possible for the boy on the farm to arrange to leave his work and this time spent at the college will be both pleasant and profitable for him.

Champ Clark's advice to Democrats is: "Get together and stay together". This advice he would give to Democrats in every community in our land, if he had the opportunity. This instruction is all that is necessary for the rank and file of the Democracy to follow in order to insure a great National victory in 1912. Mr. Clark's suggestion is right. Getting together is what gave us a Democratic Governor in Kentucky this year and will elect us a Democratic President next year!

A news dispatch from Frankfort says that James L. Stone, Clerk of the House of Representatives and candidate for re-election, has been there gathering information to be embodied in the report of the Redistricting Commission which will be made for the Legislature. It is interesting to note that Mr. Stone began his service for the State thirty-six years ago when Gov. McCreary, who was inaugurated yesterday for the second time, was first elected Governor of Kentucky.

A special dispatch from Hardinsburg in the Louisville Post of last Friday contains the announcement that county Attorney Eskridge of Breckenridge county will advocate the nomination of Col. Roosevelt for President in 1912. Mr. Eskridge says he will make a statement in next week's issue of the News why he is for Col. Roosevelt.

Looks like we will have a fine season for tobacco. And the rain seems to spell a cold wave for Christmas.

WELL DESERVED

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Cloverport People.

One kidney remedy never fails. Cloverport people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Cloverport testimony proves it always reliable.

George F. Megerle, River St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "For three months I was unable to do any work on account of my kidneys being disordered. The passages of the kidney secretions were painful and my feet became so badly swollen that I was unable to put my shoes on. There was a dull ache in the small of my back, which extended into my head, and although I tried a number of remedies, I was unable to find relief. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention and I procured a supply. I used them according to directions and in six weeks I was entirely free from kidney trouble. I attribute my robust health today solely to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BEWLEYVILLE.

SENTENCE PASSED UPON SCOUNDRELS IN TARING CASE

Shady Bend is a little village in the state of Kansas. There was a young lady school teacher in the village named Miss Mary Chamberlain. Certain parties circulated stories about her. She was weak and unprotected and no one to defend her fair name. Without investigating the truth of falsity or the charges, a band of brutes in pantalons assumed the task of regulating the community, organizing a mob, took the school teacher out, stripped her, beat her and sinared over her a coat of tar and feathers. Then with a self-consciousness of having regulated the morals of the neighborhood, they wended their several ways homeward, thanking God that they were not as this poor frightened and half-dead girl.

Fortunately, the conscience of Shady Bend was not bound up in this mob. The courts have gone to work and several convictions have been had, all with inadequate penalties.

It is stated that the stories were libelous and altogether false; that they originated with scandal-mongering men and women, and that the girl bore the very highest character for virtue and chastity. But whether she was all that had been said of her, the members of the mob ought to have been dipped in boiling oil, then scalped, then roasted slowly over hot coals, and afterward torn to fragments and thrown to wild beasts.

Who put up a set of brute men to sit in judgment on those of the weaker sex? Why were they called on to regulate the morals of a community?

There was a bunch of just such scoundrels who brought a poor, trembling girl before the Master to be judged under the Mosale law. When he turned to them and said: "Let him that is without sin among you, first cast a stone at her," they all slunk away like the cowardly curs they were. They were as burning and shining lights in the synagogue of righteousness as compared with these scoundrels of Shady Bend.

Lay this proposition down, and let it sink deep into the recesses of your heart: The man who lays a finger in anger on a woman is not a fit companion for a real gentlemanly devil. When he gets to his final abiding place he will have to seek one of the lower pits. —Bowling Green Messenger.

When your feet are wet and cold, and your body chilled through and through from exposure, take a big dose of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, bathe your feet in hot water before going to bed, and you are almost certain to ward off a severe cold. For sale by all dealers.

When you have a cold get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will soon fix you up all right and will ward off any tendency toward pneumonia. This remedy contains no opium nor other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.

CHAPTER IX.

AS BETWEEN A MAN AND A WOMAN.

IT was Salan's inexhaustible energy and good spirits that most impressed them. His teeth seemed perpetually to ache with desire, and in lieu of black legs he hunked the coconuts that fell from the trees in the compound, kept the enclosure clear of intruding hens, and made a hostile acquaintance with every boss boy who came to report.

Christian Young sailed away in the Minerva, carrying an invitation (that would be delivered nobody knew when) to Tommy Jones to drop in at Bernade the next time he was passing.

"What are your plans when you get to Sydney?" Sheldon asked that night at dinner.

"First I've heard that I'm going to Sydney," Joan retorted. "I suppose you've received information, by bush telegraph, that that third assistant understrapper and ex-sailorman at Tutu is going to deport me as an undesirable immigrant."

"Oh, no, nothing of the sort, I assure you," Sheldon began with awkward haste, fearful of having offended, though he knew not how. "I was just wondering, that was all. You see, with the loss of the schooner—and all the rest—you understand—I was thinking that if—if—hang it all, until you could communicate with your friends, my agents at Sydney could advance you a loan, temporary you see, why I'd be only too glad and all the rest, you know. The proper?"

But his jaw dropped and he regarded her irritably and with apprehension. "What is the matter?" he demanded, with a show of heat. "What have I done now?"

"Certainly not the unexpected," she said quietly. "Merely ignored me in your ordinary, everyday, man god, superior fashion. Naturally I counted for nothing, my telling you that I had no idea of going to Sydney. Go to Sydney I must, because you, in your superior wisdom, have so decreed."

She paused and looked at him curiously, as though he were some strange breed of animal.

"Of course I am grateful for your offer of assistance; but even that is no sly to wounded pride. For that matter, it is no more than one white man should expect from another. Shipwrecked mariners are always helped along their way. Only this particular mariner doesn't need any help. Furthermore, this mariner is not going to Sydney, thank you."

"But what do you intend to do?"

"Find some spot where I shall escape the indignity of being patronized and bossed by the superior sex."

"Come now, that is putting it a bit too strongly," Sheldon laughed, but the strain in his voice destroyed the effect of spontaneity. "You know yourself how impossible the situation is."

"I know nothing of the sort, sir. And if it is impossible, well, haven't I achieved it?"

"But it cannot continue. Really?"

"Oh, yes, it can. Having achieved it, I can go on achieving it. I intend to remain in the Solomons, but not on Bernade. Tomorrow I am going to take the whaleboat over to Pari-Sulay. I was talking with Captain Young about it. He says there are at least four hundred acres, and every foot of it good for planting. First, I'll buy the island; next, get forty or fifty recruits and start clearing and planting; and at the same time I'll run up a bungalow; and then you'll be relieved of my embarrassing presence—now don't say that I isn't."

"It is embarrassing," he said bluntly. "But you refuse to see my point of view, so there is no use in discussing it. Now please forget all about it and consider me at your service concerning this—this project of yours. Suppose the government sells you Pari-Sulay at a pound an acre, clearing will cost you at least £4 more—that is, £5 for 400 acres, or, say, $10,000. Have you that much?"

"No; I haven't quite $8,000."

"Then here's another way of looking at it: You'll need, as you said, at least fifty boys. Not counting premiums, their wages are $30 a year."

"I pay my Tahitians $15 a month," she interpolated.

"They won't do on straight plantation work. But to return. The wages of fifty boys each year will come to $300—that is, $1,500. Very well. It will be seven years before your trees begin to bear. Seven times $1,500 is $10,500—more than you possess, and all eaten up by the boys' wages, with nothing to pay for bungalow, building, tools, quinine, trips to Sydney and so forth."

Sheldon shook his head gravely. "You'll have to abandon the idea."

"But I won't go to Sydney," she cried. "I simply won't. I'll buy to the extent of my money as a small partner in some other plantation. Let Women!

If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Lula Walden, of Gramlin, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.

strength to it as she resisted the pressures that tended to throw the craft broadside in the surf. Her Tahitians leaped out and rushed the boat high up the beach, and she led her bizarre following through the gate of the compound.

"Lovely, perfectly lovely—Pari-Sulay," she panted. "I shall buy it. I'll write to the commissioner tonight. And the site for the bungalow—I've selected it already—is wonderful. You must come over some day and advise me. You won't mind my staying here until I can get settled? Wasn't that swell beautiful? And I suppose I'm late for dinner. I'll run and get clean and be with you in a minute."

"Do you know, I'm never going to squabble with you again," he announced, when they were seated.

"Squabble?" was the retort. "It's such a sordid word. It sounds cheap and nasty. I think it's much nicer to quarrel."

"Call it what you please, but we won't do it any more, will we?" He cleared his throat nervously, for her eyes advertised the immediate beginning of hostilities. "I beg your pardon," he hurried on. "I should have spoken for myself. What I mean is that I refuse to quarrel. You have the most horrible way, without uttering a word, of making me play the fool. Why, I began with the kindest intentions, and here I am now—"

"Making nasty remarks," she completed for him.

"It's the way you have of catching me up," he complained.

"Why I never said a word. I was merely sitting here, being sweetly lured on by promises of peace on earth and all the rest of it, when suddenly you begin to call me names."

"Hardly that, I am sure."

"Well, you said I was horrible, or that I had a horrible way about me, which is the same thing. I wish my bungalow were up. I'd move tomorrow."

But her twitching lips belied her words, and the next moment the man was more uncomfortable than ever, being made so by her laughter.

"I was only teasing you. Honest! Lulun. And if you don't laugh I'll suspect you of being in a temper with me. That's right, laugh. But don't—"

she added in alarm, "don't, if it hurts you. You look as though you had a toothache. There, there; don't say it. You know you promised not to quarrel, while I have the privilege of going on being as hateful as I please. And to begin with, there's the Fifth-
